

Russia Dooms European Settlement Hopes Construction Of Turnpike Spur May Receive High Priority

Job Slated To Follow N. E. Project

The proposed "spur" connecting with the Northeast turnpike extension may take high priority in highway construction.

This indication was contained in reports yesterday from State officials in Harrisburg.

According to reports from State sources, the spur from the Delaware Water Gap region to the extension may take priority over construction of connecting links between the turnpike and western areas.

Indications yesterday were that the local spur, running through Monroe County by way of the Snyder'sville-Neola area upward through the Effort region, might be built following completion of the Northeast extension.

This would give the spur priority over a proposed route running from near Scranton to the Bingham area.

Meanwhile members of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission are scheduled to meet Monday in Harrisburg on matters holding up work on the extension of the toll road.

The commission had originally hoped to break ground on the 100-mile extension from Plymouth Meeting, Montgomery County, to Moosic in late February or early March.

No decision on the location of "interchanges" could be reached at meetings this week, however.

Commission is undecided whether to build a tunnel near Lehigh or run the extension itself another 25 miles north.

Even if agreement should come early on the three issues, bids cannot be opened or contracts awarded until well into March. Three weeks are needed to open bids after advertising a project.

For contracting purposes, the project is expected to be divided into 10-mile sections. These would then be split into three separate divisions and contracts let on the basis of one division or of the entire 10-mile section.

Commission Chairman T. J. Evans says that eight or nine interchanges will be built. Many communities are competing for the privilege of having an interchange in their home territory, however.

As for the Lehigh tunnel, such a recourse could save two or three driving miles on the completed highway.

Biggest problem facing the commission now is financing. The commission issues bonds to cover all costs.

The Northeast extension is expected to cost 200 million dollars or more. It will run higher if the highway is run north of Scranton instead of ending at Moosic.

This latter plan including a connecting link between the Moosic area at the New York border — seems to be gaining favor with commission officials now.

A suggested termination for the route is a juncture with U. S. Route 6.

Gordon Resigns In Policy Rift With Farm Chief

Washington (AP) — Politics and differences of views on future farm policies were credited yesterday with bringing about a big shakeup in the Agriculture Department's multi-billion farm price support and crop control agency—the Commodity Stabilization Service.

Secretary Benson formally announced the resignation of Howard H. Gordon, a North Carolinian generally regarded by Republican critics as a Democrat, as administrator of the service. A New York state Republican farm leader, James A. McConnell, was appointed to succeed Gordon.

Black Market In Babies Believed Uncovered With Arrest Of Montreal Lawyer

Montreal (AP) — Police yesterday announced the arrest of a Montreal attorney in the first break of a joint Canadian-New York investigation into an alleged three million dollar black market in babies.

The lawyer—identified as Herman Miller—was picked up at Montreal's Dorval Airport as he was about to leave the country with his wife and parents. Police said he is being held on charges of giving advice to the ring on how to falsify birth registries.

Quebec and New York authorities have been investigating the ring which they believe sold most of the babies in the Eastern United States to childless Jewish couples at prices ranging from $3,000 to $10,000.

Ernest Miller, an assistant New York City district attorney who arrived here Wednesday told newsmen that more arrests in connection with the ring's activities would be made in the next few weeks.

Police said many of the buyers were led to believe that the French-Canadian and other Christian infants were born of parents of the Jewish faith.

The ring was said to have operated by falsifying birth records and apparently involved local lawyers, doctors, nurses, nursing home operators and other social welfare workers. Miller said some lawyers and doctors apparently were innocent dupes.

Some unwed mothers reportedly were given amounts up to $50 and their confinement expenses paid. Others were said to have had their babies taken away virtually without their consent.

In Toronto, police said more than 70 babies reportedly smuggled illegally into the United States from Canada, have been located by immigration authorities in New York and Brooklyn. Five of the babies reportedly have been deported back to Canada.

Defense Secretary Sees No Reason To Fear Shift From Korean War Footing To Peace

New York (AP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said last night "there is no reason to fear" that the nation's shift from its Korean War footing to peace will lead to depression.

"I have no patience with the people who seem to think that blood spilling and jobs are synonymous," he declared.

In an address at 68th annual Lincoln dinner of the National Republican Club, Wilson said that war and production of guns and war equipment makes "no contribution to real prosperity."

"Whatever we put into defense we take out of our standard of living," he said. "All the energy, all the money poured into war goods means less effort and fewer resources than can be devoted to civilian goods."

Wilson said the Communist world's failure to demobilize after World War II had made it essential for this country to "maintain a major defense program"—and it is doing so.

This is the Defense Department's main job, he said. But in "building increasing military strength," care also must be taken, he said, to conserve the nation's economic resources.

"There are those who contend that we cannot do both at the same time," Wilson said. "We refuse to accept this defeatist attitude. We are making progress in achieving both of these objectives."

Wilson said he didn't "go along with the thinking of those who believe that the only way we can keep everybody employed is by loosely spending a tremendous percentage of our resources in production of war goods."

Some act like they believe that we must have either war or unemployment.

"While we are in a transition from a shooting war to an uneasy peace there is no reason to fear we are also in a transition, from apparent prosperity and full employment to depression and widespread unemployment."

"None should be so foolish as to think that a sound road to higher living standards is one built on military spending."

Natural Fillings For Teeth Cavities Seen Possible With Chemists' New Discovery

By Alton L. Blakeslee

AP Science Reporter

New York (AP) — Someday you may grow your own natural fillings to fill tooth cavities caused by decay.

The dentist would just put something into the cavity which would let you build up the natural mineral material of healthy tooth dentin and enamel. Silver or gold fillings would not be needed. The new part of the tooth would be as good as the original tooth.

This possibility lies in a discovery reported yesterday to an American Chemical Society meeting by Martin Burger and Dr. Albert Edward Sobel, chemistry department of Jewish Hospital of Brooklyn, N.Y.

In test tube work, they think they have created the chemical ingredients responsible for the growth of crystals of calcium and phosphate. The findings need further confirmation.

The ingredients are collagen, a protein found in bone and skin, and a mysterious solid material called chondroitin sulfate.

Chemically, they behave in the same way as bone, Burger said. If this combination is put in a test-tube and then "fed" calcium compounds and phosphates, a mineral deposit appears which is similar to that found in bones and teeth.

The studies are part of a search for key chemicals which cause minerals to form hard crystals in the sponge-like framework of organic matter present in teeth and bones.

In bones and in dentin, the main part of teeth, this framework consists of collagen. In

Bitter Words Exchanged By Politicians

Washington (AP) — Democrats hotly accused the GOP yesterday of "rat sewer" politics and a continuing "plot" to tag them all traitors, in defiance of President Eisenhower's plea to party followers to avoid extreme partisanship.

The assistant Democratic leader of the House, Rep. McCormack, of Massachusetts thundered out in a speech on the floor that:

"Accusing another party of treason . . . goes far beyond impartiality. Over and above our party politics, we are all loyal Americans."

From Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich.) came a demand that the President put "teeth into his words" by ousting Leonard W. Hall as Republican National Committee chairman for his "part in this plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors."

In Lincoln Day speeches around the country, Republican orators still kept hammering the Democrats and chanting praises of the Eisenhower administration.

Even so, there were some signs that the Eisenhower bid for more temperate treatment of the opposition was being heeded.

Postmaster General Summerfield hit at "the incredible mess inherited from 20 years of Democrat misrule" and claimed the GOP has brought a "resurgence of public faith in the integrity of government and the new crusading morality in public service."

But in a speech prepared for delivery at a Lincoln Day gathering at Warsaw, Ind., Summerfield didn't go as far as he did in New York Jan. 21. Then he spoke in the same paragraph of 2,200 "security risks" formerly in the government and of "people who make treason a preoccupation."

Sen. Martin (R-Pa.), in an address at a Lincoln Day banquet at Birmingham, Ala., went a bit farther than Summerfield did yesterday. Republicans are proud, he said, that "We are gradually eliminating from the government everyone infected with the poison of communism and every subversive who is disloyal to America."

"We all have a long way to go," Martin said, "to overcome and correct the results of 20 years of socialistic experimentation and the disloyal conduct of men in high places."

Out on the coast, Vice President Nixon told reporters he thinks it is time to omit "name-calling adjectives from political speeches," but not a "frank discussion of all the facts and issues."

Senate Republican Leader Knowland called for a more moderate approach in Republican criticism of the opposition party. On patriotism and devotion to public duty, Knowland told newsmen, "You can't draw a party line."

House Speaker Joe Martin told a reporter "There's a reasonable course that has to be pursued" even though "the field must be kept clear for honest criticism and facts."

The enamel part of teeth, it is mainly keratin, the main protein in hair and fingernails.

Chondroitin sulfate was found to be apparently a critical material to promote formation of hard crystals in bone.

The chemists are planning various combinations of collagen and chondroitin sulfate to see how near they can come to making bone and dentin. And the sulfate will be combined with keratin to see if that will start formation of the mineral crystals found in tooth enamel.

The studies, helpful in understanding the vital process of calcification and other life processes, were supported by the National Institute of Dental Research, U.S. Public Health Service, and the Office of Naval Research.

TO HELP AARON HAY recall the days of his childhood and early life, a number of old friends were brought to the surprise party Thursday night at Pocono Lake High School. Pocono Lake Community Turns Out To Honor Aaron Hay At 'This Is Your Life' Program

Pocono Lake. Aaron Hay was honored here Thursday night by almost the entire population of this village.

It was a surprise to the elderly man, who had no idea that the crowd in the school here had turned out for a special PTA surprise party for him.

Mr. Hay occupied a front row seat in the auditorium. He sat quietly, watching the performance of the first grade's rhythm band, listening to the first graders giving a reading demonstration directed by Martina Bonser.

Then a program began to which Hay listened intently at first. It was patterned on the radio and TV show "This Is Your Life." It began on Nov. 4, 1876, when "you" were born in a place known then as Tompkinsville. It went on to describe "your" school days at Millertown School (now Tobyhanna Township High School), and mentioned some of "your" early teachers in the seven-grade two-room school—Cora Blakeslee Warner, Amanda Haney, William Lesh.

Sometimes school was open as long as six months out of the year in those days; "you" were given time off for ice harvesting, planting, crop harvesting, and sometimes just because the school was too cold. Students had to buy their own books and supplies. Discipline was difficult—and attendance was not compulsory, "you" remember . . .

"And maybe some of your old schoolmates would help you remember those days," said the mistress of ceremonies. And out they came from a small room off to one side of the auditorium: Freeman Dyson, Wilson Bonser Sr., Eugene Bonser Sr., William Anthony, William Franks, John Jailey, Carl Major Sr. . . .

The story continued through the coming of the railroad about 1894 and the changing of the names of the areas known then as Millertown, Houser Mills and Tompkinsville. These were also the names of the clothes-pin and shoe-peg factories which were thriving industries on the plateau.

GOP Presents Housing Bill

Washington (AP) — A Republican housing program, following through on President Eisenhower's Jan. 25 recommendations, was formally introduced in Congress yesterday.

The legislation would reduce by as much as $1,000 the down payments required for homes bought with mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

It also would allow a stretch-out in repayment periods from the present 30 or 25 years up to 30 years, and give the President broad powers to change interest rates on mortgages insured by the FHA and the Veterans Administration.

Constitutional comment on the new plan centered on a section which would provide 10 million dollars of federal aid to help states and communities blueprint non-housing public works projects in case the economic situation should require a full-scale public works program. Most congressmen endorsed this.

The housing bill, introduced by Sen. Caperton (R-Ind.) and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), chairman of the Senate and House Banking Committees, would not change required down payments on houses costing up to $7,000.

South Takes Part In Lincoln Rites For First Time

Washington (AP) — North and South joined hands yesterday in honoring the memory of Abraham Lincoln.

For the first time in history, a representative of the Sons of the Confederacy placed a wreath at the Lincoln Memorial as part of the ceremony marking the 145th birthday of the nation's 16th President.

"We decided 99 years was long enough to hold a grudge," said the wreath-layer, Col. John Virden.

"It's time old wounds were healed," said Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, 3d, grandson of the general who led the Union forces to victory over the Confederates nearly a century ago.

Cold, Windy Weather Chills Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press

Winter's back.

If you thought those spring-like days earlier this week marked the end of winter don't step outside without an overcoat. You'll freeze. The mercury plunged to within the shadow of the zero mark in Stroudsburg late last night and was expected to go below zero in parts of the Poconos early this morning.

Temperatures remained below freezing throughout Pennsylvania yesterday and the weatherman said the week-end will stay frigid.

What made things rougher yesterday was a howling 35-mile-an-hour wind that stormed out of the northwest, hitting hardest in the eastern and southern portions of the Keystone State.

Philadelphia may have its coldest day of the winter today. The weatherman predicted the mercury would plunge to a low of 11 in the city and around 5, even lower, in the suburbs. The coldest day in the Quaker City this year was on Jan. 13 when the thermometer read 13.

There were plenty of near zero readings throughout Pennsylvania early yesterday, and at Freehold, near Hazleton, the mercury hit 1 above.

At Kane, known as the "ice box" of the state, the temperature had skidded to 2 above early last night and was expected to go from 5 to 10 below later.

There was little expectation the mercury would go above the freezing point today, although tonight will not be as cold as last night. Snow was forecast for the northern and western sections of Pennsylvania.

Bandit Claims Greater Need

Denver (AP) — Mrs. Jeanette Childs, 25, pleaded with a bandit Thursday night not to take her purse containing $43 because she needed it desperately to feed her children.

But, Mrs. Childs said, he disregarded her pleas and told her: "Your kids probably ate this afternoon. Mine didn't."

Soviet Union Refuses To Free Austria

Berlin (AP) — Soviet Russia refused last night to free Austria. It blasted the last chance for European settlement at the Big Four conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov knocked out Austrian hopes of independence in the foreseeable future with these new demands:

One—Soviet troops must remain in Austria as long as Germany is divided between East and West.

Two—Even a so-called independence treaty for Austria must depend on banning the key Adriatic seaport of Trieste now in American and British hands from use as a Western military base.

The Russian demands, hidden behind the preamble of a resolution piously proposing the completion of an Austrian treaty within three months, appalled the Western ministers.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles exclaimed the Molotov proposal "gives me a cold chill." A British spokesman called it an attempt to perpetuate Russian occupation after a mock restoration of Austria's independence.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, yesterday's chairman, asserted the Russians were trying to turn the clock back in Austria to 1945.

Significantly, Dulles then announced he could "not remain indefinitely in Berlin," but must get back to Washington next week to report to President Eisenhower and Congress before attending the inter-American Conference opening at Caracas, Venezuela on March 1.

On the American's suggestion, the Big Four set up a committee to schedule the order of discussions in the few days remaining and to set a tentative adjournment date.

Only a glimmer of hope remained that some ground might be gained toward settlement of Asian issues, including the breaking of the deadlock on a Korean peace conference.

Grim silence reigned last night at the West Berlin headquarters of Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl, who pleaded at the ministers' table yesterday for his country's freedom.

A diplomatic source disclosed Dulles, Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today will offer Russia a new guarantee—a written pledge that Germany, as a member of the proposed European Defense Community, never would be permitted to engage in any aggression against the Soviet Union.

'Soul' Topic Of Sunday's Lesson-Sermon

How spiritual understanding of God brings health and harmony into human experience will be brought out in the lesson-sermon entitled "Soul" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Bible selections include this citation from Psalms: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God." (42:11.)

Among the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy to be read will be the following: "We cannot deny that Life is self-sustained, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony." (390:4-9.)

The responsive reading includes the following verses from the Bible: "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations." (Psalms 67:1, 2.)

LISTEN...

Someone told him you could hear the sounds of the sea by listening to the shell. And he believes it. His youthful imagination and impressionable mind work along with the sound waves of the shell to recall quite vividly the rolling of the waves and the pounding of the surf.

The alert mind of youth is always susceptible to suggestion and experimentation. That is why education is begun so early in life when new ideas are grasped more readily by eager minds. This is the time of life when character and personality are molded.

Why then do we hesitate so often to grasp this opportunity? Why do we let Sunday after Sunday roll by without bringing our children to the services of the Church? Here the most wonderful ideas and plans for living are passed on to receptive young minds. Not idle notions, but thoughts of love, understanding, and brotherhood are implanted.

Enable your child and encourage the children of others to receive these priceless benefits. It will mean much to them now... even more later.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pair Admits Additional Burglaries, Implicate Third Man

Police List 11 Thefts In Region

The "weekend burglars" from Phillipsburg, N. J., admitted 11 thefts in Monroe and Northampton counties and Plainfield, N. J., during questioning yesterday, authorities reported.

State police from Stroudsburg and Bethlehem, Northampton County detectives and New Jersey State police drew the admissions from a pair of Phillipsburg men.

The burglars are Cecil Lawler, 26, and Robert Hutchison, 22, both of 142 Sitgroves St., that place. During questioning Lawler and Hutchison implicated a third man, from Easton. The Easton man was not named by police. He was alleged to have been a partner to all eight burglaries committed in Northampton.

Questioning by police revealed that the burglars had developed a calculated, systematic method for breaking and entering business houses in all three areas.

According to their admissions yesterday, the system worked this way:

On Friday nights the men would "case" the prospective victim's diner, service station or store.

On Saturday, with a plan carefully drawn, the men would return to the scene and commit the burglary.

Sundays were spent in setting up a step-by-step program for the following weekend, police said.

Lawler and Hutchison made an early-morning appearance before Justice of the Peace Herbert Bonser, East Stroudsburg.

During this session the two men admitted two Pocono Township entries, police said.

Back at county jail, to which they had been committed Thursday, the "weekend burglars" were questioned by Arthur Haring, Northampton County detective force chief, and Trooper J. Shafer, Bethlehem State police.

Here they admitted, the authorities reported, eight Northampton County burglaries under questioning by the two officials.

It was here, also, that police first learned of the third man. The Easton member of the trio will be charged along with Lawler and Hutchison, police said.

He won't be present for trial, apparently. He is now serving a term in jail in another state, Haring and Shafer said.

Portland Police Chief Jesse Felker made an unsuccessful attempt to solve his only unsolved burglary during the afternoon.

Felker questioned the men concerning the theft of fishing tackle and guns from a cabin owned by Dr. M. Glass near Portland.

Lawler and Hutchison denied taking part in that theft, however. After telling police the pair had formerly been a trio, Lawler also confessed he had played the lone wolf on one job.

This burglary occurred in Warren Township, N. J., near Plainfield, Lawler said. The theft was revealed during questioning by Det. Sgt. John Opydyke and Trooper Howard Gillan of the Somerset barracks.

Lawler told the officers he took $1,043 in tools and other merchandise from the Community service station near Plainfield. He handled this one all alone, Lawler said.

He said he first noticed the station en route to visit his sister in Plainfield on Jan. 28. He decided to burglarize it on his way back home to Phillipsburg.

In their appearance before Bonser, Lawler and Hutchison admitted entering the Ernest Price service station near Bartonsville on Oct. 31.

It was "about midnight," the pair said. On entering the building the lights turned on automatically, they said. They left in a hurry, without searching the station.

Immediately following this failure, the two men went to Bolog's stand, also in Pocono Township. Between 1 and 2 a. m. that same night, they took a radio, antique dish and money from the cigarette and soft drink vending machines.

Neither Lawler nor Hutchison could remember how much money they took, however.

These other burglaries, in Northampton County, were admitted by the pair:

Forks Dairy Freeze, Forks Township. Here they broke a glass door on the east side, stole hot dogs, rolls, six cartons of cigarettes and nine dollars from a cigarette machine. The machine was taken from the building; dumped in a Stewartsville, N. J., quarry hole later, the pair said.

Chestnut Hill service station, Easton RD2. Among the loot: a radio, cigarettes, electrical equipment, tools. The unnamed Easton man took all the material, Lawler and Hutchison said.

Forks Township Social Club Inc. Here the trio broke a window on the south side, stole 12 to 13 cartons of cigarettes, looted vending machines of about $200. All articles were divided among the three, including two bottles of liquor.

William Dairy Freeze, Easton RD3, where they carried a cigarette machine from the building, opened it with a screw driver and stole four or five cartons of cigarettes and $2.50 in change.

Simons Snack Bar, Easton RD3. Total loot: $7 or $8.

Mowry ice cream parlor, Bethlehem RD4, from which a hot plate, soup

IF MORE WAS known about rheumatic fever these students at Morey School, Stroudsburg, would never have contracted the heart affliction, officials of Monroe County Heart Fund campaign said yesterday in appealing for support in the current campaign. Stroudsburg High School Crowns Talent Show Winners

A "Discoland Jazz Band" and a pair of girl vocalists were declared "tops in talent" yesterday at Stroudsburg High School.

In a special talent show sponsored by the school's student council, judges gave four awards in two categories then commended the students for a "fine show of talent all around."

Members of the jazz band were Dick Shuster, Ken Lee, Tom I. Metzgar, Sam Budge, John Hiller, Floyd Frisbie and Mickey Michel-felder.

The girl vocalists were Wanda Bishong and Joan Plevak, who called themselves "The Chubettes."

Two first prizes were awarded in the competition. One first was given in the large division; another to the small or individual division.

Runners-up in the former were "The Four Kats"—Sam Budge, Bob Meyer, Don Garaventi and Karl Weingartner—a vocal quartet featuring modern arrangements of old tunes.

Second prize in the second division went to twirlers Lydia Salerni and Joyce Thompson.

Other contestants were folk music singer Bessie Parks; soloist Earl Budge; pantomimists Betty Gardner and Joan Pleyer, Master of ceremonies was Bruce Mackey.

Arrangements for the show were made by talent chairmen Ruth Fetherman and Pat Bartholomew. James Hantjis is the faculty adviser.

and other items were stolen.

Schillings service station, Chapman, where tools were taken and the Atlantic Service Station on Freemansburg Highway where they took oil, anti-freeze and other auto repair articles.

Yesterday's long list of solved thefts was touched off by the arrest of the two men at the Lawler home on Wednesday by Stroudsburg State Troopers Alex Kearn and Emil Weber, and Phillipsburg police.

Shortly after their arrest the two men admitted breaking into the two men admitted breaking into the Snyder's diner near Snyder'sville about 2:30 a. m. Feb. 5.

Before entering the diner, Hutchison killed a small hound dog hit the dog three times on the head with a tire tool, he told police.

The two men then forced open the diner window and took quantities of T-bone steaks, shrimps, hamburger patties, women's hose and veal cutlets.

John Darr, owner of the diner, later identified the missing articles at the Lawler home in Phillipsburg. Police said Darr gave the meat to Mrs. Lawler and the two children.

Lawler and Hutchison were brought to Monroe County Jail Thursday afternoon.

Most of the burglaries, according to confessions given to police, were committed during the interval between October, last year and January, this year.

Pocono Lake Honors Hay At Program

Houser Mills area became Stauffer, only to find that it conflicted with another Stauffer in New York State, causing much confusion in freight delivery. Stauffer then became Pocono Lake. About that time Pocono Pines also was named.

It was when some of his old friends stepped over to shake hands that Hay grinned, and seemed to realize that the "you" the mistress of ceremonies kept referring to was indeed himself.

Continuing the story, Hay was reminded of his long service as recording secretary to Camp 564, POS of A by Dyson, a member of that original group.

About 1923 Mr. Hay served as a member of the Tobyhanna Township School Board. To help him recall these events, Daniel Starner, also a member of that board, was presented.

Then, an original member of the Keystone Band, in which Hay played E Flat cornet and later bass horn, appeared in uniform. He was George Wilson, who had driven up from Philadelphia.

On February 7, 1908, Hay was married to a Long Pond girl, the late Cornelia Moyer. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moyer of Long Pond.

At this point Mr. Hay's daughter, Mrs. Arthur (Ruth) Crawford, of Fairhaven, N. J., and her husband were brought forth, also his brother, Grover Hay, Pocono Pines; and Howard Wilson of Mt. Pocono.

His last surprise was presented by his 225 adopted "grandchildren". It was a scroll 14 feet long, addressed to "Grandpop" and signed by every student in the school.

The presentation of the scroll was made by a large number of the children and was followed by the whole audience singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow!"

The band was directed by Mrs. Arthur Dyson.

A "March of Time" skit, written and directed by Mrs. William Staples of Blakeslee, was presented.

This consisted of 12 living pictures, one for each month beginning with Father Time and the New Year Baby for January, and progressing through George Washington and Miss Valentine, Irish Colleen, Easter Parade (fashions 1900 through the flapper age), Decoration Day (Red Cross nurse and soldier), a real bride, "Spirit of '76", Picnic Group, School Days, Halloween, Pilgrims and ending with Santa Claus, who stepped out of his frame to go down into the audience and distribute candy.

The cast for the skit included: Dan Kerick, Dennis Waltz, Bill Wildrick, Patsy Knowles, Beverly Jean Keiper, Elsie Blakeslee, Elmore Keiper, Grace Wildrick, A. T. Blakeslee Jr., Albert Hayes, June Kerick, Mary Rhoads, Alice Shotwell and children, Clipper, Corky and Bonnie, Robert Keiper with Marlin, Norbert, Robert and Darwin Keiper and Patsy Rhoads, Edna Waltz with Ronnie, Glen and Ronald Waltz with Bill Staples.

An appeal was made for the names of couples in the community who have celebrated 50 years or more of marriage or will celebrate this anniversary this year. They are to contact PTA secretary.

Refreshments were served. A specially decorated table was set up for Mr. Hay and his family and old friends and featured a gaily decorated cake.

Young, Kirby Hold 200,200 NYC Shares

New York (AP)—The holdings of Robert R. Young and his associate, Allen P. Kirby, of New York Central Railroad stock were announced last night for the first time. The total: 200,200 shares.

An announcement from Alleghany Corp., the holding company of which Young is board chairman said that "in addition to these 200,200 shares owned personally, the Alleghany Corp. holds an undisclosed number of shares."

The announcement was made, said Alleghany, "in response to many requests."

Previously, the Central holdings of Young, Kirby and Alleghany had been reported unofficially as around 300,000 shares of the 644,410 outstanding.

The Alleghany spokesman said Young would arrive in New York City Monday to take command in his war for supreme power on the Central.

Meanwhile, the opening round of the fight ended yesterday with the closing gong of the New York Stock Exchange which ended trading for the week.

Central stock closed at $25.12 a share, up $2.12 a share on the 197,000 shares traded yesterday. This was a gain of $3.50 a share since the railroad's board of directors on Wednesday refused the demand of Robert R. Young that he be made chairman.

In view of the coming proxy fight for control of the Central, it was not known whether the heavy buying was by Young and his foes on the Central or by traders seeking a free ride in the battle.

It could be a combination of both.

William White, president of the Central, reported that offices of the railroad were swamped with congratulatory letters and telegrams because of the board's defiance of Young.

Young is in Palm Beach, Fla., preparing to close up his winter estate on Sunday and come to New York "for the duration" of the fight which climaxes May 26 with the annual stockholders meeting of the Central at Albany, N. Y.

Please note this date carefully before entering it on your engagement pad, because it was just set yesterday and comes a bit earlier than first planned.

I also remember an anniversary celebration in mid-March, come to think of it. Our store will be 79 years old. WHOOPS, my dears, our wrinkles are showing—and there's always a NEW wrinkle at WYCKOFF'S.

Industrial Organization Explained

More than 50 industrial arts students at East Stroudsburg High School heard a discussion of organization in industry yesterday.

In charge of the discussion was Edward Telling, Line Material chief engineer. It was a part of a series of programs sponsored by the Industrial Management Club of Monroe County.

Purpose of the series is to "acquaint students with industrial development and the types of work which make up industry."

In yesterday's discussion Telling centered his comments on "Industrial Organization and Functional Divisions."

In so doing, he outlined the basic requirements in work areas which must be provided by the industrial plan. These divisions, Telling told the students, vary considerably from plant to plant, since no two factories will find the same percentage of work necessary in identical divisions while turning out vastly different products.

Summation of the talk was provided by display of the organizational chart for Line Material.

Next Friday, Feb. 19, the student group will make a tour of the Line Material factory.

Burgess Harris Laughs Off Reports That He Wants To Be Emperor For Two Nights

Attired in a tweed suit, Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris of Stroudsburg yesterday emphatically denied rumors that he was the person who was going to play the title role in the forthcoming musical comedy production of "The Emperor's New Clothes."

Burgess Harris stated that he has never had ambitions to be an Emperor because running a town the size of Stroudsburg is a big enough task in itself.

Upon being presented a $125 hospital donation ticket to the Feb. 26 performance by the publicity chairman for Pocono Community chorus, Mr. Harris smiled until the promotion man—with an

Burgess Hal H. Harris

Elmerhouse smile—demanded cash with no strings attached to the ticket.

Mr. Harris said he was not familiar with the story of "The Emperor's New Clothes" but he suspected it was fabricated out of whole cloth.

He said he was looking forward with pleasure to attending one or possibly both of the benefit performances sponsored by Auxiliary of General Hospital. Premiere of the musical comedy will be at State Teachers College auditorium Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 26 and 27, at 8:30.

The entire production is under the direction of Dr. Earl Wilhoits of the Waring organization.

College Professor Writes Article For Music Journal

Dr. R. William Graham, associate professor of music at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is the author of an article appearing in the current issue of Music Journal, a professional magazine for musicians.

Dr. Graham's article, "The Self-Effacing Music Educator," makes a plea for new thought on community and school glee clubs and orchestra. It is not the quality of the final performance that counts so much, he says, as the enjoyment and the experience that the performers themselves acquire.

Polish and perfection in an amateur concert reflect credit on the director; it is not creditable, however, for a director to consider his own vanity at the expense of the group, he says.

At the conclusion of his article, Dr. Graham points out how a director may achieve a maximum of polish with a minimum of rehearsals, thus providing quality without making excessive demands on the time of his performers.

Dr. Graham is a newcomer to Stroudsburg, having joined the college faculty here last Fall. He was formerly on the faculty of Pasadena City College. When he received his degree of Doctor of Education at the University of Southern California in 1952, he was already a musical director of considerable experience, both in school and professional groups.

He was a director of the Alvino Rey Orchestra, which has been recorded on Capitol Records. He has produced two musicals of his own composition: "Operations Mickey" and "Kiwanis Frolics." He has sung on Bob Hope's radio programs.

Awards Given To Boy Scouts At Water Gap

Delaware Water Gap—Seventy-five persons attended the blue and gold dinner held at the Presbyterian Church to honor Scout week.

Of 14 Cub Scouts, only one was absent. Twelve Boy Scouts attended; two being detained by illness in the home.

Den mothers, assisted by other mothers, served the dinner. Mrs. Walter Bryfogle molded a liberty bell from gift paper to form the table centerpiece.

Francis Drake, committee chairman, presided for the meeting, which opened with invocation by Rev. Luther Markin. Drake reviewed the history of scouting in Water Gap. Walter Bryfogle, cubmaster, and Henry Kulp, scoutmaster, gave a resume of last year's work. Each of the three Cub groups presented a puppet show, using puppets they made.

In Miss Harriet Carlton's den were Robert Ace, William Carlton, Jimmy Jennings, John Gray; in Mrs. Henry Kulp's were John Aker, Gary Snyder, Walter Jennings, David Chamberlain, William Buzzard, in Mrs. Bryfogle's were Jack Bryfogle, Allan Bryfogle, Walter Jennings, Douglas Baker and Henry Harris.

Baron Reinhardt helped the first group with their skit and also put on two of his own puppet acts. Cub Scout Jack Bryfogle, who joins the Boy Scouts next week, received from the cubmaster the Webelos Badge, the highest Cub award.

Drake presented an award to the Scout who had been outstanding in his work and influence. It was awarded to James Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Howard.

Attention: Hearing Aid Division

Gentlemen:

I've been in the hearing aid business for ten years. Every year I think the instruments can't get any better. And every year you and your engineers prove I'm wrong.

You know, of course, that I am referring to Zenith's new 3-transistor "Royal-T" with no tubes. It has made a bigger hit with my customers than any instrument I have seen. Without a shadow of doubt, the "Royal-T" is the equal of any hearing aid—no matter what price—and superior to many on the market. And when you consider its low price—only $125—then it stands out as even a greater bargain.

Some of my customers wonder, I'm sure, just how I'm able to sell such a top-quality hearing aid at such a reasonable price, especially when most other transistor aids cost considerably more than the Zenith. You know and I know one of the answers to that one, and here's what I tell my customers and prospective customers: while the profit per unit on Zenith Hearing Aids is much lower than on the more expensive aids, volume sales make the difference. Where I might sell one or two of an expensive long-profit make, I now sell many more Zeniths.

Because of the low selling price and my small margin of profit on Zenith Hearing Aids, I do not accept used instruments in trade—moreover, I don't believe in selling secondhand instruments to anyone. My customers like the fact that they can buy the Zenith "Royal-T" for only $125, keep their vacuum-tube hearing aid for a spare and have TWO hearing aids for LESS than what some other transistor aids would cost EVEN WITH A TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE OF $50.00 OR SO.

I assure my customers that quality never has been and never will be sacrificed . . . that back of each Zenith Hearing Aid is the expert workmanship and precision engineering of a company that has been in the electronics field for 35 years and has spent millions in research. Further, I tell them that only a company that is sure of its product could offer Zenith's 10-Day Money-Back Guarantee, and back that up with a written 1-Year Warranty and 5-Year Service Plan.

Without exception, all of my customers are delighted with the low operating cost of the "Royal-T". They hardly believe it at first when they realize their "Royal-T" really does operate for ONLY 15 CENTS A MONTH compared to $4.50 to $9 for the vacuum-tube hearing aids. Of course, I sell fewer batteries because of this, but I sure am selling more hearing aids than ever before!

To sum up, may I just say thanks for the wonderful new 3-transistor "Royal-T."

Best wishes for continued success in Zenith's campaign for better hearing at lower cost. You and the public now know why I am proud to handle Zenith.

Enthusiastically yours,

C. H. SNOWDON

Life of Riley

Tonight's scheduled Pocono Mountains Basketball League meeting, to be held in Tannersville, may be of history making importance as far as the circuit is concerned. A knock-down-drag-out battle appears to be in the making, as two strong sides have developed in recent days on the question as to whether or not the Harmony Five should be reinstated to good standing. The circuit, in this scribe's humble opinion, is taking the right step in making an effort to settle the situation once and for all. All sides of the argument will probably be aired tonight.

Ray Steele, former, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and East Stroudsburg High basketball star, is running wild with a hot hand in the Blue Mountain Basketball League at the present time. Ray scored 63 points in two games this week and could have had more. The big center tallied 33 markers against Belvidere and had two more easy shots right under the basket in the fading seconds of play, but on each occasion passed off to Jim Fritz, in an effort to give his teammate a couple of scoring opportunities. Steele goes south with Ottawa, International Baseball League, around the 10th or 15th of next month.

Don Garaventi, Stroudsburg High football and basketball star, is currently working hard to win a Navy scholarship to any one of several colleges. Don recently passed the physical examination, but had to have repairs made on his teeth. No new players may be added to any team rosters in the Senior YMCA Basketball League after the opening game of the second half. The second half of the current campaign gets underway on the Stroudsburg High court next Thursday, with the usual doubleheader on the agenda.

Dr. James Kitchen, Glen Hays, John Kerrick, Charley Kinsley and Austin Blakeslee, all Tobyhanna Township school directors, have given the Pocono Bowman, an archery group in the Pocono Pines-Pocono Lake area, permission to use the school's gymnasium for an indoor range for the balance of the winter months, as long as there isn't any conflict in dates. Major William Varney, president of the Pocono Mountains Little League, is also president of the archery group.

The problem of handling the huge crowd that witnessed Tuesday's Monroe County League basketball game between Coolbaugh and Barrett was made easier by the use of chairs made possible through the kindness of Father Vincent Harrity, assistant pastor of the Pocono Mission. Coolbaugh authorities are reportedly truly grateful. Stroudsburg High's Athletic Association postponed its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday because of the Little League gathering at East Stroudsburg Junior High school. The Athletic Association will meet next Wednesday.

Speaking of Little Leagues brings to mind a story appearing in the most recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post. It's entitled, "The Word of Babe Ruth," and is written by Paul Gallico. Anyone interested in both baseball and kids will eat and love every word of this highly fictional story. When Dave Nevil, Stroudsburg forward, scored only five points against Catawissa in last week's Lehigh Valley League basketball contest at Moravian's field house, it marked the first time that the W. Main St. junior had been held out of the double figures this season.

Bob Miller, I. B. Miller forward, lost two front teeth in a Saturday night Pocono Mountains Basketball League tussle. The following Monday, Jim "Cocky" Wilson, Williams Pharmacy forward, also lost a tooth, while playing against the Builders. Bob "Sonny" Fischer, Pharmacy guard, was reportedly knocked unconscious, but not seriously injured, in the same Monday night contest. The odd part of the entire setup is that all three played together on the Tobyhanna Township High basketball machine last season.

It is quite possible that "Zack" Hobbs, a light-heavyweight boxer from Philadelphia, may become at least a part-time resident of Stroudsburg. He turned pro just after World War II and has only recently been discharged from the service. The reason Williams Pharmacy like to play its basketball games at home on Saturday night is that the attendance is much better on Saturday than any other day of the week, so this column has been informed. Les Woodling, former Pocono High baseball and basketball star, is one of the new faces on the Johnson Diner team for the second half of the current Pocono Mountains Basketball League campaign.

Joe Heard, former Bangor High basketball and baseball standout, scored four points for Moravian College the other night, although the University of Scranton won the basketball struggle. It was the first 1954 victory for the Royals.

Barrett Wins Monroe County League Basketball Title

Pocono Falts In Final Three Minutes

Canadensis — Barrett High rallied in the last three minutes here last night and rode to the Monroe County League basketball championship with a 53-48 verdict over Pocono, before a wild, screaming, standing-room only crowd in the Barrett gymnasium.

Barrett, facing the possibility of dropping out of the pennant fight, trailed by one point at the halfway mark and dropped four points behind going into the last period, as Pocono, primed for this final game of the regular campaign, continued to apply the pressure.

The home team, coached by Joe Murray and beaten for the first time this season on Tuesday, trailed 43-41 with three minutes remaining on the clock, but a set shot by Stan Cheslock evened the count at 43-all, as bedlam broke loose in the Barrett gym.

ed 43-41 with three minutes remaining on the clock, but a set shot by Stan Cheslock evened the count at 43-all, as bedlam broke loose in the Barrett gym.

Cheslock came back with another "set" to put the home forces in front for the first time since the second quarter, as the two long-time court rivals locked horns in another of their patented games.

Pocono picked up one point and then drove into a 46-45 lead on a field goal by Bob Hallett, but Roger Roan, sparkplug of the Barrett squad, hit from inside to make it 47-46 with little more than a minute remaining on the clock.

The host aggregation closed with a rush as Dave Kropp picked up a field goal, Roan scored on two foul shots, and Cheslock hit from the floor. The six-point spurt offset a field goal by Pocono's Tommy Williams and the Murraymen defeated the hard driving Pocono club, coached by Harry Werkheiser, as the two blue and white color bearing contingents fought right down to the final whistle.

Barrett won the game from both divisions of play, holding a 18-17 edge in field goals and a 17-14 advantage from the foul line. The visiting Pocono contingent made good on 14 of 33 charity tosses, while Barrett converted 17 of 28 free throws.

Cheslock and Roan led the Barrett attack with 18 and 16 points respectively, while Hallett was the big gun for Pocono with 14 counters.

Barrett also won the junior varsity championship by scoring a thrilling 34-31 win over Pocono in the preliminary battle.

East Stroudsburg High Runs Wild In Exhibition Verdict Over Phillipsburg Cagers

East Stroudsburg High stepped out of the Lehigh-Northampton League last night and inflicted a 79-54 basketball defeat on Phillipsburg, as the Cavaliers put on one of their finest displays of the current campaign, on the N. Courtland St. hardwood.

Coach Dick Forster threw 11 players into the varsity contest, as the Cavaliers accounted for victory number seven to go with 11 defeats. Every member of the winning aggregation broke into the scoring column for at least one point, as the Cavaliers vaulted into a 13-3 lead early in the first round and remained in front the rest of the game without difficulty.

Barry Lambert led the East Stroudsburg scoring attack with 16 points, while Jere Young, playing his finest basketball of the current campaign, racked up 13 counters in a little more than one period of play.

School Record
Jim Diedo set a new scoring record for Phillipsburg even in defeat, as he racked up 12 field goals and 12 foul conversions for 36 points. On Tuesday Diedo tied the old mark against Wilson Borough by scoring 35 counters. The Phillipsburg forward made good on 12 of 15 foul shots, as the entire losing team connected on 18 of 36 charity tosses. East Stroudsburg was as brilliant from the foul line as from the floor, as the Cavaliers made good on 15 of 17 charity tosses.

Bill Pensyl and Lambert paced the Cavaliers into a commanding lead early in the first period, but Phillipsburg came back to narrow the deficit to 19-13 going into the second round. The Cavaliers led at halftime, 37-26, after building an 18-13 advantage in the second period.

East Stroudsburg, using every member of the squad extensively, completely dominated the second half with a 24-15 edge in the third quarter and an 18-13 bulge in the final round.

East Stroudsburg fans had plenty to cheer about as the home town junior varsity took the Phillipsburg yearlings into camp in the preliminary tussle, 58-52. Jim Kimler led the winning attack with 21 points and Danny Marvin added 12.

Chestnuthill Dumps Coolbaugh, 43-42

Rivals Tie For Number Two Position

Brodheadsville — Chestnuthill High rose up and knocked Coolbaugh from the championship picture in the Monroe County Basketball League last night, as the home team scored a thrilling 43-42 decision before a packed crowd that screamed encouragement to both clubs throughout the contest.

A tight three-two zone defense, with two big men under the basket, kept the usually high scoring Coolbaugh club in check. The win enabled Chestnuthill to tie Coolbaugh for second place in the current standings and the spot will be decided next Tuesday when the same two clubs clash again.

Harold Burkett and Bill Everitt, a pair of sophomore forwards, sparked the Chestnuthill contingent to victory, as Coolbaugh trained its defenses on Harry Possinger, the hard working guard who has led Chestnuthill to many of its victories this season.

The host aggregation, coached by Otto "Junior" Mills, actually won the thrilling encounter in the first half, gaining a 13-10 advantage in the first quarter and holding a 22-21 lead at the halfway mark.

Coolbaugh outscored Chestnuthill for the only time in the second quarter, as both teams added points in unison through the second half. Each picked up eight counters in the third round and 13 in the final period.

The visiting Coolbaugh five, coached by Don Wismer, moved into a 33-33 deadlock with Chestnuthill early in the last round, but the home team forces opened up a four-point gap late in the period, only to have the green and white clad visitors cut the margin to one at the final whistle. Chestnuthill had possession of the ball when the game-ending buzzer sounded.

Coolbaugh held a 17-16 advantage in field goals, but Chestnuthill made up the difference from the foul line. The home team made good on 11 of 17 charity tosses, while the losing quintet could account for only eight conversions in 15 attempts.

Everett and Burkett led the winning attack with 14 and 13 counters respectively, while Andy Sapp and Jim Kinsley were high for Coolbaugh with 16 and 13 markers. Each team used only five players.

Chestnuthill also defeated Coolbaugh in the junior varsity tussle, 35-13.

Television Performers Win Awards

Television passed out its annual awards this week in Hollywood. Called "Emmys," the awards are similar to the "Oscars" handed out each year by the motion picture industry.

Top winners for the year were the following:

United States Steel Hour—"best dramatic program." The Steel Hour is a newcomer to television. It is the TV version of "Theater Guild on the Air," a radio favorite for many years.

Edward R. Murrow—"most outstanding personality of 1953." This is considered the highest award given by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, sponsors of the prizes. Murrow won on strength of his CBS programs "See It Now," "Person to Person" and special events series.

Audience participation shows—a tie for the award between "This Is Your Life" and "What's My Line?"

Best mystery, action or adventure program—Jack Webb's much-parodied, still top-rated "Dragnet," a series based on actual Los Angeles police files.

Best variety program—"Omnibus," the Ford Foundation program designed to elevate the standards of TV presentation. Alastair Cooke is the M. C.

Best situation comedy program—"I Love Lucy," winner for the second straight year.

Best male star of a regular series—Donald O'Connor, one of the rotating stars of the "Comedy Hour."

Best children's program—"Kukla, Fran and Ollie."

Best public affairs program—

IN LOVING memory of the late Mrs. Edna (Nana) Brewer, who entered into rest February 13, 1954. I cannot say, and I will not say, that she is dead—she is just away!

With a cherry smile, and a wave of the hand, she has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair.

It needs more, but, since she lives in our hearts.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—This day's favorable influence would be helpful in your daily problems, bettering your position or standing. But be mindful that there are other vibrations to three—worthy opposition.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Semi-generous aspects. Create a friendly atmosphere, promote ideas with diplomacy rather than force, brusqueness. This means thinking.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—A few well-placed words, a smile will go far today. The air is full of contention, activity, haste, irritation, and keep yourself busy, plan ahead, live the present.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—You Scorpio natives should enjoy this challenging day. No hasty decisions or words, but keen ideas, prompt actions will make your day worthwhile, freshly satisfying.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—While opposition seems big at first glance, it fades once you attack intelligently. Don't be foolish and try to lone head when cooperation is so easily had. We all need help.

December 24 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Vibrations gain hold; no more matters on upward trend. Inject a little sound audacity, while carefully gauging possibilities. Heart interests favored in reasonable degree.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Though you may not realize it, invisible powers are working for you. Be sagacious and seek only honorable ways and means of accomplishment and you'll be amply rewarded.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—This day's favorable influence would be helpful in your daily problems, bettering your position or standing. But be mindful that there are other vibrations to three—worthy opposition.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Semi-generous aspects. Create a friendly atmosphere, promote ideas with diplomacy rather than force, brusqueness. This means thinking.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—A few well-placed words, a smile will go far today. The air is full of contention, activity, haste, irritation, and keep yourself busy, plan ahead, live the present.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—You Scorpio natives should enjoy this challenging day. No hasty decisions or words, but keen ideas, prompt actions will make your day worthwhile, freshly satisfying.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—While opposition seems big at first glance, it fades once you attack intelligently. Don't be foolish and try to lone head when cooperation is so easily had. We all need help.

SPCA Chapter Reports 337 Paid Members

The monthly meeting of the Monroe County SPCA was held on Thursday night in the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, with a fine attendance of members present. Mrs. Ellen D. Albenzi, president, presided.

Mrs. Willis Goddard, financial secretary, reported 337 members paid to date with 15 new members joining. George Wakefield, agent, reported that he drove 436 miles in January, gave out 13 animals for adoption and returned three lost animals to their owners. The 1954 posters for Be Kind to Animals week were ordered.

A member, reporting on a cruelty case, urged the general public that when they know of a case of cruelty to telephone at once to the SPCA agent at 3736. Attention of the residents of Monroe County is called to the TV program which will be shown on Sunday, Feb. 14 at 5 p. m., channel 4, which will relate the life of the late Henry Bergh, who pioneered the present day humane societies.

Dr. Veva Dean, chairman of the shelter committee, presented the first artist's drawing of the proposed animal shelter which will be built on the SPCA property on Foxtown Hill. It will consist of a small office, 12 stalls for dogs and one for cats. The shelter will be of cement block construction, concrete floors with adequate drainage for easy cleaning purposes and radiant heat.

Arnold Hallock and Carl Tewksbury, co-chairman of the building fund committee, outlined their plans for the raising of the funds necessary to build the shelter. Many local merchants are cooperating with them and the help of all members is urged. Next regular meeting will be on March 11.

'Patriotic Echoes' Staged By Laboratory School Pupils

Pupils of grades four, five and six in the Laboratory School, East Stroudsburg, staged "Patriotic Echoes" in the State Teachers College auditorium yesterday morning, to mark birthdays of two famous Americans: George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Lead roles were taken by Charles Smith as Washington and Robert Pipher as Lincoln. Elaborate costumes of Colonial era and the Civil War setting added color to the program.

Miss Catherine A. Reinard, fourth grade supervisor; Miss Josephine Kerns and Marvin Burus, instructors, were assisted by student teachers Joseph Bertucci as music conductor, and Paul Cauley, Miss Ellen Richmond, Mrs. Betty Menninger, Thomas Stephenson and Frank Ruthoski in directing the tableau.

Following a selection by the school chorus, Mrs. Jean Nobel conducted devotions. Judy Miller was narrator for the program. Colors were presented by Billy Cyphers and the featured soloist was fourth grader Bruce Bean.

Participating in a flag drill were Michael Poorstra, Allen Keough, Barry and Timmy Hineine, Billy Brinker, Harry Newmann, Glenn Reish, David Smith, Gary Cramer, Donald Marvin, Mark Burch and Harold Cramer. This was directed by Katherine Ponturo, supervisor of elementary health and physical education, assisted by Miss Martha McAndrews.
